

Published By:

THE JERUSALEM REPORT
PUBLICATIONS LTD. 2008

P.O. Box 1805, Jerusalem 91017

Tel. (972-2) 531-5660 Fax (972-2) 531-5631

Editorial: jerusalemreport@gmail.com

Subscriptions: subs@jpost.com

Website: www.jpost.com/Jerusalem-Report

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF: Steve Linde

SENIOR EDITORS: Amotz Asa-El (Current Affairs),

Elliot Jager (Jewish World), Ralph Amelan (Books)

COPY EDITORS: Susan Lerner, Tamar LaFontaine

CORRESPONDENTS: Atlanta: Jan Jaben-Eilon

Bangkok: Tibor Krausz Paris: Bernard Edinger

Washington: Martin Sieff Moscow: Julie Masis

CONTRIBUTORS: Paul Alster, Bernard Dichek,

Mark Weiss, Patricia Golan, Bob Horenstein,

Shula Kopf, Yossi Melman, Bruce Maddy-Weitzman,

Shlomo Maital, Benita Levin, Matt Nesvicky,

Judith Sudilovsky, Amiel Ungar, Haim Watzman

ART DIRECTOR: Daria Lemeshekin

EDITORIAL ASSISTANT: Frieda Jacobowitz

ILLUSTRATOR: Avi Katz

CEO Jerusalem Post Group:

RONIT HASIN-HOCHMAN

ADVERTISING

COMMERCIAL MANAGER: Yehuda Weiss

Tel. (972-3) 761-9000, (972-50) 554-3779

Email: yehudaw@jpost.com

15 He'achim Mi'slavita, Tel Aviv 67010

Fax (972-3) 561-0777

North America

86-90 188th Street, Jamaica, NY 11423-1110

SUBSCRIPTION SALES

North America: 1-800-827-1119

1-888-576-7881 (8 a.m. – 4 p.m. EST)

Israel: *2423

UK: 0-8000-283-945 (4 p.m. – 10 p.m.)

Australia: 61-2-9371-7549

Elsewhere: +972-3-761-9059

CUSTOMER SERVICE

North America: 1-800-448-9291

Israel: *2421 or 03-761-9056

Elsewhere: +972-3-761-9058

All correspondence outside the U.S. should be sent to The Jerusalem Report, P.O. Box 57598,

Tel Aviv 61575 Israel.

Printing: Hadfus Hehadash Ltd., Israel

The Jerusalem Report (USPS # 006-871) is published biweekly for $109 per year by The Jerusalem Report publications Ltd, P.O. Box 1805, Jerusalem, Israel and distributed in the USA by The Jerusalem Post (U.S.) Inc, 86-90 188th Street, Jamaica, NY 11423-1110. Periodical postage paid at Jamaica, NY and at additional mailing offices. POSTMASTER: send address changes to The Jerusalem Post, 86-90 188th Street, Jamaica, NY 11423-1110.

© 2014 The Jerusalem Report Publications Ltd. All rights reserved. Reproduction, distribution, replication, translation, storage on a database, or transmission in whole or in part of this publication without written permission is prohibited

FROM THE EDITOR

Interfaith guru

HOW DID a Reform rabbi from Florida become Israel's pioneer in the field of interfaith dialogue? For the full answer, read Rabbi Dr. Ronald Kronish's new book, "The Other Peace Process: Interreligious Dialogue, a View from Jerusalem," published by Hamilton. This is just a taste.

It is, Kronish says, the first book written in Israel on interreligious dialogue as a part of Israeli-Palestinian peacebuilding. During what he calls his "exciting and enlightening career," Kronish founded the Jerusalem-based Interreligious Coordinating Council in Israel (ICCI) in 1991, and served for 25 years as its dynamic director, becoming a well-known personality, public speaker and writer.

He established a reputation as a rational voice eloquently advocating for peaceful coexistence and constantly engaging in a vital conversation with Muslim and Christian leaders during a critical period in Israel's history. "Through my professional work, it became increasingly clear to me that the main issue that we have to deal with now and for the future – for the survival of the Jewish state of Israel – is to figure out how we can learn to live with the Palestinian Arabs in our midst, both those who live as citizens of Israel, and those who live in the West Bank and Gaza, many of whom still suffer under military occupation and whose fate needs to be resolved through peace negotiations," he concludes.

Kronish, 71, stresses that he is a liberal Zionist who believes that the Jewish people should have a state in part of their ancient homeland, side by side with a peaceful Palestinian state. His personal and professional journey makes for a fascinating read. After growing up as the son of a prominent rabbi in Miami Beach, Rabbi Leon Kronish, he studied to be a rabbi and educator at Brandeis, Hebrew Union College and Harvard, where he also developed his progressive philosophy. He got involved in the field of inter-religious dialogue some years after making aliya from the US with his wife, Amy, and two daughters in 1979. Today, he is retired but still lives in Jerusalem, and he and Amy have "three wonderful daughters, three terrific sons-in-law and five fabulous grandchildren."

Rabbi Ron Kronish

The reader cannot but admire his faith, tenacity and dedication, and his refusal to let go of his quest for peaceful coexistence, despite what he describes as the despair among people on both sides of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. "My response to this – and the answer shared by many of my colleagues in Israel – is that we must not lose faith and give up!" he insists.

Of the many great stories in this book, one of my favorites is his role in the historic visit of Pope John Paul II to Israel in 2000 at the peak of a revolution in Catholic-Jewish relations. His description of the pontiff's prayer at the Western Wall, touching the stones, and placing a note in a crack in which he asks God for forgiveness is incredibly moving.

Kronish established good relationships with a wide range of religious figures – Jews, Christians and Muslims of many denominations, and others, including the Dalai Lama, whom he had the honor of hosting in Israel. He is a proponent of what he calls "The Other Peace Process" – the educational, religious, psychological and spiritual one – to supplement the official political process, which he believes will eventually become the historic imperative of a new era, just as it did in Northern Ireland, South Africa and Bosnia-Herzegovina. "Ultimately, once we are sick and tired of ongoing violence – living by the sword – we will have no choice but to bring people together to live in peace," he writes. We can only pray, for everyone's sake, that he is right.

Steve Linde

Send letters by email to: jerusalemreport@gmail.com. Please include your full postal address. The editor reserves the right to edit letters as appropriate. Priority will be given to brief letters that relate to articles in the magazine.